Summary

The House and Senate Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies (THUD) Appropriations Subcommittees are charged with providing annual appropriations for the Department of Transportation (DOT), Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and related agencies. THUD programs receive both discretionary and mandatory budget authority; HUD's budget generally accounts for the largest share of discretionary appropriations in the THUD bill, but when mandatory funding is taken into account, DOT's budget is larger than HUD's budget. Mandatory funding typically accounts for around half of the THUD appropriation.

The Administration requested net budget authority of $134.5 billion (after scorekeeping adjustments) for the agencies funded by the THUD bill for FY2017, an increase of $20.6 billion (18%) over FY2016. Most of this increase was for highway, transit, and passenger rail programs in DOT. Customarily, appropriations bills originate in the House of Representatives, but the House has not been able to pass a budget, delaying the consideration of appropriations bills. The Senate Committee on Appropriations has begun the appropriations process. For the THUD bill (Senate-reported S. 2844, now Division A of H.R. 2577), the committee recommended $114.2 billion in net budget authority ($121.2 billion in new budget authority before scorekeeping adjustments), an increase of $244 million (less than 1%) over FY2016.

On May 12, 2016, the full Senate began consideration of FY2017 appropriations for THUD as part of a substitute amendment to H.R. 2577 that incorporates both the Senate-reported THUD bill (S. 2844) and the Senate-reported Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies bill.

DOT: The Administration requested a $96.9 billion budget for DOT for FY2017. That is about $22 billion more than was provided for FY2016. The budget request called for significant increases in funding for highway, transit, and rail programs. The Senate Committee on Appropriations largely rejected the proposed increases and recommended $76.9 billion in new budget authority for DOT, $1.8 billion more than the comparable figure in FY2016. After a $2.2 billion rescission of unused contract authority from previous years, the committee's net FY2017 appropriation for DOT is $344 million less than the FY2016 level. The major changes from FY2016 levels in the Senate-reported bill are $905 million more for the federal highway program, $575 million more for the federal transit program, and $85 million for new federal grant programs for intercity passenger rail.

HUD: The President requested $39.6 billion in net new budget authority for HUD for FY2017, $1.3 billion more than provided in FY2016 ($38.3 billion, excluding $300 million in disaster funding). The Senate-reported bill recommends $39.2 billion in net new budget authority, representing $1.5 billion more in appropriations for HUD's programs and activities than was provided in FY2016 and $600 million more in savings from offsets. More than three-quarters of the increase in appropriations is attributable to funding increases to largely maintain current services in HUD's primary rental assistance programs, the project-based Section 8 rental assistance program and Housing Choice Voucher program.

Related Agencies: The Administration requested a total of $350 million for the agencies in Title III (the Related Agencies). This was about $33 million less than the comparable figure for FY2016, as the Administration request included funding for an agency that was not in the Related Agencies title in FY2016, the Surface Transportation Board. The major change in funding from FY2016 levels in the request was a cut of $35 million (20%) for the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation (NRC). The Senate-reported bill recommended $339 million, cutting another $5 million from the NRC.

Introduction to Transportation, HUD, and Related Agencies (THUD) Appropriations

The Transportation, Housing and Urban Development, and Related Agencies (THUD) Appropriations Subcommittees are charged with drafting bills to provide annual appropriations for the Department of Transportation (DOT), the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and six small related agencies.

Title I of the annual THUD appropriations bill funds DOT. The department is primarily a grant-making and regulatory organization. Its programs are organized roughly by mode of transportation, providing grants to state and local government agencies to support the construction of highways, transit, and intercity passenger rail infrastructure, while overseeing safety in the rail, public transportation, commercial trucking and intercity bus, and maritime industries. The Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) is exceptional among DOT's large sub-agencies in that the largest portion of its budget is not for grants but for operating the U.S. air traffic control system. In support of that task, it employs over 80% of DOT's total workforce, roughly 46,000 of DOT's approximately 56,000 employees.

Title II of the annual THUD appropriations bill funds HUD. The department's programs are primarily designed to address housing problems faced by households with very low incomes or other special housing needs. These include several programs of rental assistance for persons who are poor, elderly, and/or have disabilities. Three rental assistance programs—Public Housing, Section 8 Housing Choice Vouchers, and Section 8 project-based rental assistance—account for the majority of the department's funding. Two flexible block grant programs—the HOME Investment Partnership Program and Community Development Block Grants (CDBG)—help communities finance a variety of housing and community development activities designed to serve low-income families. Other, more specialized grant programs help communities meet the needs of homeless persons, including those with AIDS. HUD's Federal Housing Administration (FHA) insures mortgages made by lenders to home buyers with low down payments and to developers of multifamily rental buildings containing relatively affordable units.

Title III of the THUD appropriations bill funds a collection of agencies involved in transportation or housing and community development. They include the Access Board, the Federal Maritime Commission, the National Transportation Safety Board, the Amtrak Office of Inspector General (IG), the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation (often referred to as NeighborWorks), the U.S. Interagency Council on Homelessness, and the costs associated with the government conservatorship and regulation of the housing-related government-sponsored enterprises, Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac. The Surface Transportation Board, formerly an agency of DOT, was made independent of DOT in 2015 legislation, and now appears in Title III of the THUD bill.

Budget Concepts Relevant to THUD Appropriations

Most of the programs and activities in the THUD bill are funded through regular annual appropriations, also referred to as discretionary appropriations.¹ This is the amount of new funding allocated each year by the appropriations committees. Appropriations are drawn from the general fund of the Treasury. For some accounts, the appropriations committees provide advance appropriations, or regular appropriations that are not available until the next fiscal year.

In some years, Congress will also provide emergency appropriations, usually in response to disasters. These funds are sometimes provided outside of the regular appropriations acts—often in emergency supplemental spending bills. Although emergency appropriations typically come from the general fund, they may not be included in the discretionary appropriation total reported for an agency.

Most of DOT’s budget is in the form of contract authority. Contract authority is a form of mandatory budget authority based on federal trust fund resources, in contrast to discretionary budget authority, which is based on resources in the general fund. Contract authority controls spending from the Highway Trust Fund and the Airport and Airway Trust Fund. Total annual discretionary budget authority for THUD is typically around half of the total funding provided in the bill, with the remainder made up of DOT’s mandatory contract authority.

Congressional appropriators are generally subject to limits on the amount of new nonemergency discretionary funding they can provide in a year. One way to stay within these limits is to appropriate no more than the allocated amount of discretionary funding in the regular annual appropriations act. Another way is to find ways to offset a higher level of discretionary funding. A portion of the cost of regular annual appropriations for the THUD bill is generally offset in two ways. The first is through rescissions, or cancellations of unobligated or recaptured balances from previous years’ funding. The second is through offsetting receipts and collections, generally derived from fees collected by federal agencies.

THUD Funding Trends

Table 1 shows funding trends for DOT and HUD over the period FY2010-FY2016, omitting emergency funding and other supplemental funding. The purpose of Table 1 is to indicate trends in the funding for these agencies; thus emergency supplemental appropriations are not included in the figures.

Note: By custom, appropriations bills originate in the House of Representatives. Since the House had not acted on FY2017 THUD appropriations as of May 12, the Senate added the text of Senate-reported S. 2844 to H.R. 2577 (which was originally the FY2016 THUD bill) as a substitute amendment. The new H.R. 2577 also contains the text of the Senate-reported FY2017 Military Construction, Veterans Affairs, and Related Agencies bill.

FY2017 THUD Discretionary Funding Allocation

The annual budget resolution provides a budgetary framework within which Congress considers legislation affecting spending and revenue. It sets forth spending and revenue levels, including spending allocations to House and Senate committees. These levels are enforceable by a point of order. After the House and the Senate Appropriations Committees receive their discretionary spending allocations from the budget resolution (referred to as 302(a) allocations), they divide their allocations among their 12 subcommittees (referred to as the 302(b) allocations). Each subcommittee is responsible for one of the 12 regular appropriations bills. While a budget resolution and subcommittee allocations alone cannot be used to determine how much funding any individual account or program will receive, they do set the parameters within which decisions about funding for individual accounts and programs can be made.

The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2015 (P.L. 114-74), enacted early in the fall of 2015, set the overall budget amount for FY2017. The Senate Committee on Appropriations set the 302(b) allocation for THUD at $56.474 billion.²

Table 3 shows the discretionary funding provided for THUD in FY2016, the Administration request for FY2017, and the amount allocated by the House and Senate Appropriations Committees to the THUD subcommittees. Table 4 lists the total funding provided for each of the titles in the bill for FY2016 and the amount requested for that title for FY2017.

As discussed earlier, much of the funding for this bill is in the form of contract authority, a type of mandatory budget authority. Thus the discretionary funding provided in the bill is only about half of the total funding provided in this bill.

Note: FY2016 enacted and FY2017 request and enacted are net of advance appropriations, rescissions, offsetting collections, and other adjustments. The FY2017 budget request proposed shifting several billion dollars from discretionary to mandatory funding, which had the effect of reducing the amount of discretionary funding requested.

FY2017 THUD Funding

As shown in Table 4, the President’s FY2017 budget requested $134.5 billion for the programs in the THUD bill, $20.5 billion more than the $114.0 provided in FY2016. Most of the requested increase was for additional highway, transit, and rail funding; the request for DOT was $22 billion over FY2016. The request for HUD was $1.3 billion more than provided in FY2016.

Note: Figures are net after rescissions, offsets, and other adjustments. Figures include advance appropriations provided in the bill, rather than advance appropriations that will become available in the fiscal year. The former are the amounts generally shown in committee press releases; the latter are the amounts against which the committee is generally “scored” for purposes of budget enforcement. Totals may not add up due to rounding and scorekeeping adjustments.

- a. In FY2016 the Surface Transportation Board was funded under DOT in Title I at $31 million; starting in FY2017, the board is an independent agency funded under Title III.

The Senate-reported S. 2844 recommended $114.2 billion for THUD; after accounting for the differences in rescissions and offsetting receipts in FY2016, this represents an increase of less than 1% over FY2016 funding. This situation is explored further in the next section of this report and in Table 5.

How Lower Budget Authority becomes Greater Funding – the Impact of Offsets

In the case of the THUD bill, net discretionary budget authority (which is the level of funding measured against the 302(b) allocation) is not the same as the amount of new discretionary budget authority made available to THUD agencies, due to budgetary savings available from rescissions and offsets. Each dollar available to the subcommittees in rescissions and offsets enables the subcommittee to provide funding that does not count against the 302(b) level. As shown in Table 5, in FY2016, due to rescissions and offsets, the THUD subcommittees were able to provide $8.7 billion in discretionary appropriations to THUD agencies above the net discretionary budget authority level.

Source: Table prepared by CRS based on Comparative Statement of New Budget (Obligational) Authority for Fiscal Year 2017, S.Rept. 114-243.

Note: The FY2016 act included $300 million in emergency funding, which is counted as discretionary funding.

The amount of these “budget savings” can vary from year to year, meaning that the “cost” in terms of 302(b) allocation of providing the appropriation may vary as well. With $2.15 billion more in rescissions and $579 million more in offsetting receipts and collections in FY2017 compared to FY2016, the Senate Committee on Appropriations was able to recommend $1.9 billion more discretionary funding for THUD for FY2017, even though the committee had given THUD a discretionary allocation that was $1.1 billion less than in FY2016.

Notes: “M” stands for mandatory budget authority. Line items may not add up to the subtotals due to omission of some accounts. Subtotals and totals may differ from those in the source documents due to treatment of rescissions, offsetting collections, and other adjustments. The figures in this table reflect new budget authority made available for the fiscal year. For budgetary calculation purposes, the source documents may subtract rescissions of prior-year funding or contract authority, or offsetting collections, in calculating subtotals and totals.

- a. The Essential Air Service (EAS) program receives an additional amount of mandatory budget authority; for FY2017 that additional amount is $104 million, for a total of $254 million.
- b. The FY2016 totals include $31 million for the Surface Transportation Board, which was made an independent agency beginning in FY2017; its funding will henceforth be provided in Title III, Related Agencies.

DOT in Brief

Senate Action

For DOT, the Senate Committee on Appropriations recommended the following:

- $76.9 billion in new budgetary resources, $1.8 billion (2%) above the comparable FY2016 figure and $20 billion below the Administration request (for budget scoring purposes, a rescission of $2.2 billion reduces the net total to $74.7 billion). On an inflation-adjusted basis, this would be the largest DOT appropriation since FY2011.
- Increases in funding for the federal-aid highway program ($905 million) and the federal public transportation program ($575 million).
- $85 million for new intercity rail grant programs, in addition to $1.42 billion for Amtrak, $30 million (2%) more than Amtrak received in FY2016.

President’s Budget

The Administration’s budget proposal for DOT included the following:

- A request for $96.9 billion in budgetary resources, an increase of 29% over the amount provided for FY2016 (for budget scoring purposes, a rescission of $2.4 billion reduces the net total requested to $94.5 billion).
- $1.25 billion for National Infrastructure Investment (TIGER grants), a 150% increase in funding over FY2016.
- $51.5 billion for federal-aid highways, a 20% increase in funding over FY2016.
- $19.8 billion for public transportation, a 68% increase in funding over FY2016.
- $1.9 billion for Amtrak, a 37% increase in funding over FY2016, plus $4.1 billion for other programs to develop intercity passenger rail service.

Title II: Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD)

Table 7 presents account-level funding information for HUD, comparing FY2016 with the FY2017 President’s budget request and congressional action. It is followed by a brief summary of key highlights. For an expanded discussion, see CRS Report R44495, Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD): FY2017 Appropriations, coordinated by Maggie McCarty.

- a. The Section 8 tenant-based rental assistance account includes both current-year and advance appropriations. Typically, Congress appropriates about $4 billion for tenant-based rental assistance for the subsequent fiscal year in addition to funds for the current year.
- b. The Senate committee-passed bill would create a new Indian Block Grants account that would include (1) the programs currently funded in the Native American Housing Block Grant account and (2) the Indian Community Development Block Grant, which is currently funded in the Community Development Fund account. The amount in the table reflects the total amount that would be provided for this new account.
- c. Funding for the Indian Community Development Block Grant, which is usually provided in the Community Development Fund account, is included in a new Indian Block Grants account in the Senate committee-passed bill.
- d. The Self-Help and Assisted Homeownership Opportunity Program account provides funds for both the Self-Help Homeownership Opportunity Program (SHOP) and certain capacity-building activities. The President's budget proposed funding SHOP as a set-aside within the HOME account and capacity building activities within the Research and Technology account, rather than within their own account.
- e. The Section 8 project-based rental assistance account includes both current-year and advance appropriations. Typically, Congress appropriates about $400 million for project-based rental assistance for the subsequent fiscal year in addition to funds for the current year.
- f. In addition to HUD's housing counseling assistance program, in recent years Congress has provided funding specifically for foreclosure mitigation counseling to the National Foreclosure Mitigation Counseling Program (NFMCP), administered by the Neighborhood Reinvestment Corporation (also known as NeighborWorks America). NeighborWorks is not part of HUD, but is usually funded as a related agency in the annual HUD appropriations laws. Neither the President's budget request nor the Senate committee-passed bill includes funding for the NFMCP for FY2017.
- g. Some or all of the cost of funding these accounts is offset by the collection of fees or other receipts, shown later in this table.

- h. The Rental Housing Assistance account is used to provide supplemental funding to some older HUD rent-assisted properties, and, when funding is provided, it is typically offset by recaptures. Funding is not requested in this account every year.
- i. Section 233 of the General Provisions included a rescission of $7 million in unobligated balances from the Neighborhood Stabilization Program and a rescission from FHA's General and Special Risk Program account.
- j. Section 420 of the General Provisions included $300 million in disaster recovery assistance for states and communities impacted by Hurricane Joaquin and Hurricane Patricia and other storms and flooding events occurring in 2015. This amount was provided as "disaster relief" funding, and is thus effectively exempt from the statutory limits on discretionary spending that apply to the remainder of HUD funding in the bill.

HUD in Brief

Senate Action

For HUD, S. 2844, as reported by the Senate Appropriations Committee (S.Rept. 114-243) would provide the following:

- $48.4 billion in gross appropriations, which is approximately $1.5 billion more in appropriations than was provided in FY2016 but about $500 million less than was requested by the President.
- $39.2 billion in net budget authority, reflecting savings from offsets and other sources, which is $890 million more than FY2016 ($1.5 billion more in appropriations and $610 million more in savings from offsets, excluding disaster funding).
- Level funding for Community Development Block Grants (CDBG) relative to FY2016, which is a $200 million increase over the President's requested funding level.
- Funding increases, largely to cover the cost of renewing subsidies in the Section 8 tenant-based (Housing Choice Voucher) and project-based rental assistance accounts (+$800 million and +$280 million relative to FY2016). Proposes funding for new incremental vouchers for youth aging out of foster care and homeless veterans.

President's Budget

The President's FY2017 budget request for HUD included the following:

- $48.9 billion in gross appropriations, which is $1.9 billion more in gross appropriations than was provided in FY2016, excluding disaster funding.
- $39.7 billion in net budget authority, reflecting savings from offsets and other sources, which is $1.3 billion more than FY2016 ($1.9 billion more in appropriations and $600 million more in savings available from offsets).
- Increases in funding for most HUD programs, including funding for new incremental Section 8 Housing Choice vouchers.
- A 7% funding cut for CDBG, with a proposal to revisit the way funding is distributed to communities.

Title III: Related Agencies

Table 8 shows appropriations levels for the various related agencies funded within the Transportation, HUD, and Related Agencies appropriations bill. The Surface Transportation Board was transferred from the DOT title to the Related Agencies title starting with FY2017.
